LOOKING BACK TO 1869

The first hotel built here in 1869 was called The Courthouse Hotel, offering guests 'The Best of Liquors and Good Stabling'. They even rented out buggies, horses and ladies saddles back then.

The two story brick section with 17 guest rooms was added in 1896, when it became known as Conlan's Delatite Hotel. It has had a range of owners over the last 150 years.

Sadly the hotel went broke in late 2013, at which time
we took on the challenge of rebuilding the business.

We trust you enjoy your visit here today.

Owners, Dean & Gillian Belle
